CQC is distributed bi-weekly by the Borderland Sciences Research Hdqrs., 3524 Adams Ave., San Diego 16, Calif. 12 issues (6 mo.): $5.00. — 6 issues (3 mo.): $2.50. Two issues $1.00. Sample copy sent anywhere at request. Issued on the 1st and 15th of each month, and supplementary to the BSR bi-monthly Round Robin.

Oddities from the Press:

Tombstone Aglow with Eerie Red Light draws Crowds to Pittsburgh Cemetery. A police Inspector, a funeral director, and one Father Wendlen investigated and unanimously said nothing at all except that the 'glow' was there. (Undated clip, recent. Cr. Gray Barker, Ed. "Saucerian Mag").

A $5,000,000 fire in the yards of a Cleveland lumber company, August 16, began when a "blazing ball was reported to have exploded over the wood-drying kilns. A railway brakeman said he saw a ball of fire explode ovef a building in the wouth-west corner of the yard. (Cr. Assoc. T.N. Bates). (C.Plain Dealer, Aug.17).

"Black Hills Gravity Gets Out of Balance." This appears to be another of the so-called Vortexes, such as are found near Grant's Pass, Ore., and Santa Cruz, Calif. Location given as "about six miles from Mount Rushmore, on the way to Rapid City, S.D. about a half-mile off the main road - called COSMOS by its owners." All the usual Vortex phenomena. Two people stand on a level board, opposite ends, and one looks shorter than the other. If they change places, the 'other' person looks shorter. A tin can rolls UP an inclined board, so does a rubber ball. One can stand upright only by leaning or appearing to lean at a pronounced angle. A ball thrown across the room travels up, then returns toward the thrower - etc.etc.

There is reason to think that there are many of these 'mystery spots' scattered throughout the world; they are sometimes called gravity warps, and the zone of distortion has been found to extend upward for some 2-300 ft. No explanation by scientists - who usually have no time for mysteries anyhow - but the phenomena themselves are undeniable.

Just as a suggestion: suppose a minute fragment of enormously dense matter - etheric matter, let us say, which could weigh into the millions of tons per cubic inch - had some time, in some way penetrated the surface of our globe. This might conceivably distort the gravitational field over a considerable area (whether or not gravity is an "ether flow"). Whether such distortion could account for purely visual effects is a very difficult question. ml. -- Clip from Omaha World-Herald, August 30, 1953. Cr. Assoc. TN Bates.

FATE MAGAZINE for October '53 gives nearly a third of its pages to"flying saucers" and the aeroforms generally. Data of all kinds, as well as serious documentation of these phenomena, has now reached immense proportions. Also, DOUBT Magazine (Fortean Society) recently devoted an entire issue to "Saucers et Cetera" - sightings and reports only, no stories or fictionizing.

All this makes interesting, in fact sensational reading -- but we once again point out that it is almost valueless to anyone who wants the ANSWER. In all the millions of words of print devoted to the aeroforms and related subjects, there is not a single intelligent and worthwhile explanation in the large and inclusive sense - i.e., this and that particular sighting may be explainable and explained, but not all of them - and NO explanation of the What, Whence, Who, and Why of this irreducible 20% that even the Air Force admits. EXCEPT - if you please - the explanation received and publicised in 1946, and ever since that time, by the BSR publications. In the whole mass of data since 1946, there is nothing to invalidate this BSR explanation, once it is correctly understood. It is a little strange to Western ways of thought - but the processes of time will establish it as basically correct.

FORTEAN FALLS:

The FATE issue referred to above carries a four-page article on this subject, and DOUBT frequently publishes relevant data. Charles Fort is a chief source (Book of the Damned), but instances (real or alleged) are scattered everywhere. But readers familiar with our eight years of study of the Mark Probert Controls (deep trance mediumship) may take some interest in their remarks about the Falls:

'How often do we have to repeat to you, my friends, that ALL objects of your plane of existence have their exact duplicates in matter of a different density- i.e., in etheric matter. This is not mere reflection like a mirror image, for the etheric worlds or planes are far more dense than yours. It is only that the etheric substance vibrates at too high a rate for your senses to perceive it. But in the innumerable permutations of matter, the intricate web of forces of Nature, the vibratory rates of this or that object are sometimes converted, and then an invisible etheric object becomes visible and tangible, and subject to gravitational and other forces, and so plunges into your plane of existence. The so-called Flying Discs come into this category; their energy rate is converted by the Etheric beings and then you can see them, and they are truly matter of your plane. When this rate is again altered, they again become invisible .....

AND ABOUT PROFESSOR MENZELL we quote with appreciation a billet doux received from our London Associate Desmond Leslie (author of The Saucers Have Landed, available end of this month). Says Assoc. D.L. -

Watch for our new opus, written conjointly with Prof. Donald Duck Menzell, in which we prove conclusively that all those big red London busses people keep seeing are only the refracted, reflected, polarized and ionized images of the neon signs of Piccadilly Circus. Rave notices! Another triumph for Science! Emeritus Chairs doled out to both of us for our brilliant line in New Reasoning.

You have our permission to publish this notice in your BSR publications for the usual nominal fee of $5,500,000 - and to consider yourself highly privileged at doing so.

Assoc. Leslie adds: "I do believe that etherian as well as 'solid' people from other planets are now visiting us." (By "solid" Mr. Leslie means 'to our senses, according to our use of the term 'solid').

About Trips in Saucers and people who report them: Assoc. Clara Louise John (Wash'n D.C.) writes us: "I have a letter from Orfeo Angelucci dated June 14, in which he states: 'Yes, my experience with the space visitors, or flying saucers, was definitely subjective.'

With regard to Mr. G.W. Van Tassel we understand, and also infer from his booklet ("I Rode a Flying Saucer"), that his experience was also of a subjective nature - or of the nature of an astral or etheric projection.

We have heard both of these men spoken of in the highest terms, and certainly acquit them both of any intent to deceive. We make allowance for the yen of a publisher for a catchy title. But in the interest of all serious students of these extremely serious phenomena, we urge everybody reporting on them to be as factual, literal, and explicit as is humanly possible. Glamour and mystery and half-facts in such matters can well be a grave disservice.

PACIFIC VOLCANO: The crew of an Air Transport stated on Aug. 18 that they saw a volcanic eruption and a crater appear in the Pacific 200-300 miles S.E. of Tokyo. "Smoke like an atobomb blast rose out of the sea and reached some 24,000 ft. into the sky... " (cr Assoc. E.S.Schultz)

Correspondence of
'Rolf Telano'. (Concerning the changes predicted for August and September):

"My own thinking on the subject is, the date might be correct, yet it is a law of Nature that many changes come about so gradually they are scarcely noticed at the time. Compare our habit of setting dates for the beginning of the four seasons . . .

Some of the changes, however, are beginning to become measureable to orthodox science. I recently saw an item where some scientist had detected a slight (but still continuing) change in the wave length of cosmic rays reaching the earth. Also, according to latest reports from the U.S. C & G.S., the north magnetic pole continues its shift toward the north geographic pole. It has always been about 20 deg. south of the Geographic Pole, with a corresponding shift at the South Magnetic Pole. There was an annual variation which formed an irregular circle several hundred miles in diameter, but the mean center of the circle has always been at approximately the same point. The lines of force connecting the two poles were also badly distorted, forming an irregular path which varied as much as 15 or 20 degrees east or west of a straight line. Both of these, of course, indicated some magnetic and electrical unbalance in the earth, since the poles of a rotating object should coincide with the axis of rotation and the lines of force should be straight. . . About 5 or 6 years ago the north magnetic pole began a definite shift northward. At the last report (not verified) it was believed to be only about 5 deg. south of the geographic pole, and still moving north. I am anxiously awaiting a revised table of the magnetic declinations to see if the lines of force are also straightening out. Apparently the magnetic forces of the earth are coming into proper balance and the force causing the distortion is diminishing. When (and if) the magnetic pole locks into true position, there may be some very interesting electrical phenomena . . .

 (Sentence beginning "at last report" is not from the US C & G.S.).

It may often be a serious mistake, to discredit a prediction or prophecy too hastily simply because nothing important seems to happen on the exact date involved. R.T.'s comparision to our custom of setting dates for the seasons is an instructive one. The forces of Nature prior to some great operation are almost always veiled from us. There is in fact no "real" time-beginning for any event - and whatever moment we select as a starting point (or the 'prophet'happens to see and select) must have its own causes and origins, and so reach back to other 'beginnings'. . . . If it is wrong to be naive and credulous, it is no less so to be hasty and dogmatic in denials. Patience, detachment, and the desire and ability to learn seem to be the requirements for even a half-tolerable world. (ml)

Instrumental Communication--) Inter-plane Communication --)
by Assoc. R.T.

'The secret lies in heterodyning - a method by which two very high frequencies are made to produce a lower frequency -- thus, radio frequency coupled with another of the right length produces audio-frequency. When two beats of two different waves come together a third vibration of a lower frequency will result. If anyone on the other planes can tell us their wave frequency, then any radio engineer can tell what heterodyning wave to use to make it audible - or visible. Why don't they get down to facts and figures. Don't any engineers get onto the astral plane - or do they just slowly fade away. Ask them about this point sometime. I'm quite sure they could tell you - if they would

"AUTO SUCKED INTO SKY":

"A 200-man posse searched today (Aug.5) for a car reportedly sucked into the sky by a tornado and carried out of sight. A small boy was looking out from one of windows when it disappeared, a witness said"... John McGregor of Spearfish, S.D. reported to the Sturgis Police Chief that a car bearing an Idaho license was driving 50 ft. in front of his jeep during a violent wind and rainstorm. "Then it was picked up by a tornado and carried 50 or 70 ft. up in the air. It disappeared in the mist and rain". He said he was close enough to see a small boy looking through a window. The weather bureau confirmed that a tornado struck in the Sturgis area.

TO PRINT OR NOT TO PRINT ...?

Man to Man magazine for October, '53 prints a rather lengthy article entitled Are the Flying Saucers Kidnapping Humans? A dozen or more instances are referred to, involving not merely individuals but small groups of people - as well as numerous ' takings' of cats and dogs. All mentioned instances seem to have occurred in full daylight, and the article mentions (which is unusual in print) the existence of enormous mother ships "at least a mile in diameter"). But the actual beings and craft involved in the abductions have always been invisible; the person or animal has simply been seen rising away from the earth despite his cries and struggles.

Charles Fort once remarked "I think we being hunted for" - and collected a good many supporting facts. And the trance Control Yada Di Shi'ite had this to say:

"I repeat again and again that these are Space Beings - Etheric Beings. They may appear on any body, in any body. They can appear in your world and take things. They have taken droves of people from your planet. Individuals, parties, crews and passengers of ships - mysterious disappearances. Many - many! .... (At another meeting the Yada added -)

"One reason for the takings, the abductions, has been for the colonization of other planets. People taken in this way are much better off - much happier.

"This carrying off has been going on for ages.

"These space beings have no true local habitat. They come from enormous distances, from beyond the galaxies sometimes. They have visited and yet visit all planets, all heavenly bodies. From Venus, yes. From Mars, yes. From the moon, yes. From etheric doubles, space doubles of all bodies. From bodies where they have landed as they are now landing here. When they say, Yes, we come from Venus - that is a little part of the whole answer. They have landed on thousands and millions of bodies for ages past. Yes, there are races and cultures and civilizations of them; they have govefnment and organization and plan..."

In the foregoing paragraphs from the Yada we have in summary the whole of the problem and explanation of the Aeroforms. In nearly eight years of weekly conversations with him and the other M.P. Controls we have found them to be men of good will, honorable and highly informed. I believe that his account of the Space People is true and correct - since it covers and in a sense explains ALL of the diversified phenomena - of the aeroforms and of related happenings like the abductions. But, did Man to Man magazine do the right thing in printing this disturbing (because largely true) story? Are we doing the right thing in reviewing it & adding the quotations from the Yada? ... Man, like an ant, is fairly safe in his own nest. But may the Gods help him when he sets out to 'see the world' for himself.

Omitted above was an acknowledgment to Reg. Director Elsie Keithe, for the clip from Man to Man magazine. Her letter also includes the following paragraphs. (Assoc. Keithe's address is 2901 N.W. 30th St., Miami 37, Fla.).

..I sent you two or three years ago an item about people being 'taken'. The medium was Eunice Van Wyk, and the informant (direct voice, deep trance mediumship) claimed to be a Norman Daw, a physician who lived in Denmark some 400 years ago. He said that 'they' had taken 20 people from the Behring Straits region "as experimentation". I asked him if these persons were Americans or Russians, and he said "Europeans" - and that people from all countries would be taken, but this would not be reported until later. Now it seems as though Dr. Daws prediction is coming true.

"This same entity told us about a cavern in Southern Wyoming that had been entered by engineers. This cavern, he said, contained records of an ancient civilization on this continent, and that the records were placed there about about 1200 years ago. He also said that the cavern extended out to the region of Atlantis; also that the discovery had been reported to the Government but would not be made public. When asked if the records could be deciphered he replied 'only partially'... He also told us that HPB had incarnated in a male body, in Sicily, and was named Leonardo... Now that the 'takings' are being publicised it may pay us to keep an ear to windward for Wyoming and Leonardo. . . Other attendants at the Van Wyk meeting were BSR Assoc. Pauline North, Grace May, and Helen Wheeler - who will verify my account if necessary.

We get numerous reports of 'psychic communications' but as a rule (E.K. 8-24-53 do not print them, for obvious reasons. They may be worthy of credence and close attention but we seldom have enough information to form an opinion either pro or contra. In the present instance, the alleged discovery of the caverns and the records may perhaps be verified, and the future report of "takings" seems to have worked out.... Reg. Director H.M. Wagner, of DeFuniak Springs, Fla., has also sent us many notations from a long series of 'seances' held under his direction and attended by many of our Associates. We are always glad to have reports of significant or maybe-significant material from psychic sources, and failure to publish it does not reflect on it in any way, or upon friends and Associates who take the trouble to send it in.

I should perhaps add, that the Mark Probert Controls had no knowledge, about two years ago, of the reported reincarnation of Blavatsky and seemed highly sceptical about it - which of course is 'for your information' and 'proves' nothing at all.

WING-RAYS & the AURAMETER: CHIMES Magazine prints a note from their correspondent Winogene Savage. "Nicholas Roerich, in AUM, published in 1936, writes (page 50):

"In all the cosmic amplitudes the basic factor is thought. It can alter Karma, determine dates, open gates and close them. It grows wing-rays from the shoulders. It can lead one close to the Higher World or precipitate one into the Abyss. The manifestation of law rests upon thought."

"This is most interesting in the light of Verne Cameron's demonstration of "extensions from the shoulders which for all the world resemble wings" (Chimes, July '53). I saw him outline an aura in our home in which wings extended across the room - at least 12 feet." (W.S.) --

The BSR has published an 80-page book on this instrument (the Aurameter) - and we gave it a thorough test before doing so. Both the book and the instrument can be obtained either from BSR Hdqrs. or from the inventor, Mr. V.L.Cameron, box 1120, Grand Ave., Elsinore, Calif. (ml).

LAST MINUTE ITEMS:

Round Robin next (IX-3, Sept.-Oct.) will print by permission a story published in SAUCERS magazine, Vol.I No.2 (Box 34, Los Angeles 35, Calif.). This is an account by Truman Bethurun of his encounter with some 7 or 8 occupants of a Disc, which landed near him on a Nevada highway. He was taken inside the craft and held a half-hour conversation with the woman-Captain. The editor of SAUCERS is Max B. Miller; price of the publication: 4 issues for $1.00.

Mr. Bethurun was also interviewed by BSR Associate Julius Becker, so that RR is able to add several items of interest to the account printed in SAUCERS.

We have lately received several plausible reports of transparent or translucent Discs. Of course, many Discs which vanish "before one's eyes" may do so by converting the vibratory rates into transparent substance; but the cases reported to us have been those of Discs on the ground or hovering very low. These (alleged) data suggest, obviously, that any number of craft may be landing and taking off from all parts of the earth, yet quite invisible to us; and some of these may be invisible but tangible; others both invisible and intangible. The transparent ones are now being called "crystal" or crystalline. How far this is a verbal distinction, cannot yet be determined.

VALOR for August 29, '53, prints six pages on the Disc or Saucer subject, concerned with the landing observed near Blythe, Calif. and with accounts given by "Professor" Adamski, Dr. George Williamson and others. Various investigators have been told that the BSR report distorted the facts.

Our reply is simply that our report was merely a transcript of stenographic notes taken by an expert stenographer, of a conversation held with Adamski, Williams and others, at Palomar Gardens - and cannot be dismissed as incorrect.

We are sure that, in the interests of accuracy, Mr. Adamski would wish it understood that he has no connection with the scientists of the Palomar Observatory, and that the academic title used with his name is by way of courtesy. We note that VALOR makes some attempt toward this correction and feel that it is desirable.

We also take note, once again, of the persistent error made by people who cannot or do not wish to understand the "etheric" explanation - that because the landed discs and their occupants are visible and tangible, and the latter behave like humans, therefor there is nothing etheric about the phenomena at all. We have always insisted, for some six years past, that etheric people can and do alter the vibration rates of their craft and their own bodies, according to their environment, and the gravitational and magnetic fields of any planet approached by them. Also, we have repeatedly pointed out that many types of ether-craft are in use, by different kinds of beings, from different parts of space, and that some come from bodies inhabitable by human beings like ourselves... And a basic difficulty, of course, is our inability to understand that the ethers are enormously dense, and by no means something foggy and vaporous and rarefied. The concept is good science and good metaphysics - and NOT invented by the BSRA. We have printed hundreds of pages on this true and only approach to the problem of the aeroforms - but we cannot repeat it on every page for the benefit of children who are adults in years only.

LETTER FROM
Associate G.S.H. to B.S.R. Director:

I have not made any pyramid-food experiments as yet, but intend doing so. Got 21 shaves in the 4th experiment; then discarded the blade as I felt that the last one was not "close" enough; however, I did not experience razor-scratch or that familiar rawness of a hurtful shave which sometimes even a new blade produces.

Will set up the combination pyramid-cone experiment one of these days. Have purchased a roll of metal-foil in the dime-store. Sample enclosed. 98 cents 12x30" - pliable, workable; easily soldered. Wrapper enclosed.

In regard to dessication, have made a very brief experiment by inserting a small envelope of chemical salts underneath paper pyramid and leaving another one exposed. This indicator reveals humidity content. Both turned color equally, proving that humidity underneath pyramid is equal to room-humidity -- hence dessication is due to another principle, of course.

The following is not a pleasant thought .. but could the pyramid effect be involved in the so-called "secret" of African head-hunters shrinking human heads? Sounds necromantic, hence let's leave that unstated.

Is it possible for an object (as a razor-blade) to react "en rapport" to the mind of the operator by the very fact of bestowing that "attention" on it? If vegetables, animals are susceptible to human-radiations - why not minerals and metals? This effect is what I previously mentioned as the N-ray effect. If mind has a bearing on these experiments, then we may expect the "erratic" effect now and then rather than the immutable. On the other hand that much may apply to all known laws .. for is there any law at all that is not subject to modification of mind?

Oh well, just count me in as a confirmed "pyramider" ... this is just what the doctor ordered a la curiosity to keep the noodle from getting moldy.

It will take plenty of time to accumulate data. There is one joker of humor: it is obvious that these experiments pay for themselves. Naturally, the razor-blade manufacturers would rather keep this education hushed up. They might raise the usual "imagination" reprisal. All I can say is that if a man can get 137 shaves out of a single blade by "Imagination" ... how can that be laughed out?

(see last page of this CQC-7

G.S.H.
(Chicago)

273.72 deg. - or, Absolute Zero:

"It is found that in all gases the pressure diminishes by about 1/273 for each degree of cooling; the temperature of Odeg. C. being the starting point and the volume being maintained constant. If a gas be cooled down in this way to -273.72 C. it would have no pressure and therefore no temperature, for it would have no kinetic energy, no heat ... Absolute zero would correspond to total assence of molecular kinetic energy" (Daniell, A., Physics).

A temperature of -268.5 was the lowest reached experimentally at the time Daniell published the above statement; lower figures have since been obtained. But all bodies possess heat and never cease to radiate it, since they never lose molecular motion. At a recent conversation with the Mark Probert Controls your BSR Director insisted on a sophomoric question: What would happen if we could arrest ALL molecular movement in a fragment of any substance? The Control at first replied: You cannot do this. You would be reaching the limit of experimentation - the lower limit of the natural law as you have formulated it, but motion would not cease. It will continue in the sub-atomic, sub-electronic reaches of matter. There are electrons within electrons, atoms within atoms, extending into other 'planes' of being, of space-time, far out of your sensory range.

"But as a hypothetical question. Suppose such motion could be destroyed?

"There is no substance without motion of its parts. Heat is the energy of motion. Destroy motion and you negate matter. You would not have a Nova; you would not even have Light in the cosmos, or any cosmos, but an unthinkable Darkness beyond darkness. You would have that Somewhat or Nothingness which lies beyond Chaos..."

This reminds us (by most unscientific association, no doubt) of the expression "Him of whom naught can be said" - and also of the Ain Soph Auer of the Qabalists - which translates, "Infinite Negative Light". Negative Light, if you please - which may come close to "Darkness Beyond Darkness."

Religious Implications of Astral Projection: (James Baker, Jr.)

"The fact of astral projection has profound religious and philosophical implications. . . The astral body is a certain reality, and so likewise is the spiritual body and its principle, the Anima... I tcan be confidently asserted that man possesses or IS a soul, capable or emancipating itself from the cor - poreal vestment... It may now be published that modern religion need no longer accept the existence of the soul upon mere faith ... In general all such doctrine has been accepted on faith; it is lacking in any scientific and straight-forward account of real facts. We have not dared to attend to our independent inquiries lest we commit some grave sacrilege and be anathematized. But the pressure of increasing scientific discovery is about to be drastically increased, and the religion of tomorrow will be that poem whose inspiration will have its roots in science...while science itself will derive its inspiration from enlightened religion, which may also guide it ..."

The foregoing is quoted from The Principles and Practise of Pneumatology - a 25-page brochure by James Baker, Jr. This is the kind of thing which desperately needs saying, with all possible emphasis and clarity. Its present utterance is not premature, but imperative. The culture of the future (if a 'New Age' really dawns) will understand that religion, science, and philosophy are completely interdependent --- Mr. Baker's main objective is to provide a scientific nomenclature for the field of psychic studies (a much needed contribution). His brochure and a companion one, "The Metaphysical Organs of Man" are published by the William-* Press; 313 W. 35th St., N.Y. 1., at $1.50 each. -- This material is closely written and somewhat 'technical', but is also important and should have the attention of all serious-minded students of our cultural milieu.

NOTES FROM THE MARK PROBERT SEANCES:

On your plane you draw your energies from sleep - but I have not slept for centuries. How is my life sustained? By meditation. When I meditate upon any object or image until I identify myself with it, I am sustained and refreshed as if by sleep. (The Yada)

When you meditate upon an object until you achieve identification - if then the object is struck, you yourself suffer the effects of the blow, for it is you and you are it in the Oneness of the Great Mind. (LaoTse)

Everythinghas its own vibration. Everything is in a sense electronic. Everything has its own radiation, and we can call this radiation FOHAT. Fohat is the principle which gives form, individuality, and life. Each person, or the aura of each has his own frequency, but this is subject to change. A newborn child does not have the vibratory rate of its later adult years. Identity is a pro - duct of experience, and a child's rate should perhaps be tested every few years- perhaps every seven years at least. (Professor Luntz).

Reincarnation on the earth plane is determined by need and desire. The astral body grows. There is heat within it and this causes the particles to loosen up. The atomic particles move out of their orbits and then lose heat. A vortex is formed which becomes a point of light, and this comes into contact with its surroundings - with the world. This is the soul seed, negative to the female, positive to the male. It is breathed in by the male and enters the blood stream and the generative organs. There is a blending of the life spark with the seed. The first cell becomes a recording machine. The soul is always there, building its own body. (The Yada)

(Let us note here, that the oft-repeated question: When does the soul enter the body of the child? - has no meaning). ml

Many more people than you suppose have been inside these Discs -- Mr Bethurum's experience was a real one -- A long time ago we made mention of the planet Clarion -- the bodies of the Clarion people are not of the same substance as your own (i.e. their vibratory rate or frequency is different and can be controlled at will). Their atomic law is different. They appear and vanish into space-time. The Discs flow along lines of magnetic force with a kind of bouncing motion' (the step-flight noted by many observers. ml). But do not mistake - these people come from all over space. Not all of them are kindly.

Certainly, abductions of humans and other 'takings' have been going on for centuries. Both humans and animals have been taken to other planets to see whether they would live and thrive there. In such cases the bodies have to be altered. The memory of earth life is obliterated. ... Well, it is not too logical of you to object to this - you have something you call 'hunting seasons' - do you not?

These Guardians gather information concerning changes of all bodies in space. These changes even on your own earth are very great. It is truly an exploding universe. Celestial bodies are particles being blown away from the center. Your earth is getting more cosmic radiation through the ionosphere than for several hundreds of years past, and this is causing great changes in the chemistry of the undercrust. Some impinging particles move with such force as to penetrate hundreds of miles. These produce more rapid ionization and will cause more 'quakes and volcanoes.

(Concerning the Vortex in the Black Hills). A Vortex is a warp. Gravity is electrical and lines of gravity may be disturbed and displaced, sometimes by ether-particles of enormous mass.

This heavy ionization of the earth and atmosphere will affect many people and in different ways. It affects the nervous system and may stir up hostility between peoples and nations. Changes will occur in the chemistry of the body and these will be thought of as new diseases (but are not really so)... Many bodies in your solar system are coming into contact with very dense fields of etheric matter. Conditions on the Sun are changing and there is an increase of the 'out-boiling' from its center, throwing a great amount of Helium and Hydrogen into space. This will cause great heat during the next summer, which will be much worse than the one just ending. The winter will be very severe in the East and Middle West; the northwest will be affected later.

To combat the new 'diseases'will be difficult - but above all keep close control of the emotions. They will be easily affected and will cause and invite much trouble.

The study of astronomy on our plane is carried on both by means of instruments and by control and projection of consciousness - by rapport.

The Sun radiates particles but of course does not give off heat, until the particles approach the earth of some other body; they then create ergs (energy units). (Natalli)

When one begins to practise meditation, one often is or seems to be assailed by Entities, invisible but very apparent so far as feeling is concerned. Now, these are not likely to be either exfarnate humans or 'elementals'; they are usually thought-forms created by Fear which exists on the deeper 'layers' of consciousness. And a thought form can take on all the aspects of a personality; it can often talk and act as if it were an independent entity in its own right. The effort of such entities, in the cases mentioned, is to close the door to the new expefiences of meditation. This they can do if the person concerned is not ready for what he desires. He must conquer these forms first of all, if he is to 'get thru' successfully, in meditation or in astral projection. To do this he should make the following affirmation:

"In the Name of Christ the All-Prevailing Light I command all dark Forces to flee before me."

As this command is made, he should hold the two first fingers of the right hand pointed out and pressed together, with the last two fingers and the thumb joined at their tips. Extend the arm out before you and make a sweeping gesture in a circle about you. Say and do these things with force and a feeling of certainty. If you are at all lacking in surety the opposing Forces will be aware of it and crowd in upon you. (Y.di S.) 9-21-53

I include these quotations from the Controls of Mark Probert - and especially the last two paragraphs - because (whatever the sceptical may think about them) the advice given is eminently practical. We have many appeals from persons who have, in one way or another, gotten into what are called 'psychic difficulties, and who have consulted psychologists, psychiatrists and others of their clan with only negative results - or worse. Such persons are almost without recourse and our sapient pseudo-sciences have no help to offer them. There is nothing more needed than elementary and correct instruction in the data of 'psychism' and occult knowledge. ML

'In its essence the life force is atomic. And pure drinking wather by the breaking down of molecules will give more life energy than is received from food. One can live a long time on water alone. This should be aided by proper breathing. The usual type of shallow breathing or chest breathing leaves the lower abdominal region without proper oxidation. Bacteria accumulate and a substance is formed which is a kind of mould. No special method of breathing is necessary but the lungs should be well filled. At least do a little full-breathing every day. As to the water again: this will add oxygen to the blood stream without any special breathing change. . . .

'It does make a difference which way you lie when sleeping - because of the chemical composition of the body. The body is like a storage battery; it both ab - sorbs and discharges energy. The north-south sleeping position, with head to the north, is preferable. Do not habitaally lie transverse to the 'magnetic meridians'. Disease can be produced by doing so, by reason of the effect on the nervous system. Atrophy of the muscles may be produced.

'Concerning the hardening of copper as known to the Ancients. The copper was placed in an acid bath and subjected to violent electric shocks. This caused certain components of the acid to enter the copper and unite with it. (Q) No, the acid used is not known to your scientists. (Q). No, I am not permitted to give its formula nor its salt. The acid was more conductive than the copper itself. This is one of the matters we cannot disclose - for the reason that this knowledge would remake the face of your civilization, and you are not yet ready for such a remaking...

NOTE: Several years ago we were told that the Auriculum or Orichalum used ex-extensively by the Atlanteans was really a copper slag, especially hardened. It seems likely that this is the same substance and process referred to above. This seems to be the limit of the information available thru the Controls on this particular point. Inquirers please note.

NEW BSR PUBLICATIONS: BIO-GENESIS, by Assoc. Mark Gallert (effect of mind-energy on crystals: abstract from Dr. Charles W. Littlefield): $1.00 --- THE ETHER OF SPACE: Compiled by Meade Layne. Contains articles by NATALLI. $1.00 --- THE Q ENERGY (pub. by Originality House, BSR has sole rights): Concerns the 2-Way stretched film - a remarkable piece of research. $1.00 --- WILL CANCER & POLIO YIELD TO ELECTRONICS: Dr. Norman K. Edgars. Important brochure. $1.00. ENCYCLOPEDIA OF PSYCHIC SCIENCE, by Nandor Fodor. (We have one copy of this O.P. volume, invaluable in its field. Price $15.00).

KOCH TREATMENT booklets: after many delays the reprint will be ready by Oct.. 10, '53. $1.00 --- THE AURAMETER, 80 pgs., $3.00 --- The Aurameter (instrument). $15.00 -- ETHER SHIP MYSTERY & ITS SOLUTION ("Discs" or Saucers): $2.00. TRANSCRIPTS OF THE MARK PROBERT SEANCES: by subscription, 10 issues, $5.00.--- EXCERPTS From the SEANCES, Nos. I and II. $1.50 each -- THE MAGIC BAG, Part II: $3.00

THIS PRESENT ISSUE OF CLIPS & QUOTES HAS BEEN LARGELY DEVOTED TO RECENT MATERIAL RECEIVED FROM THE MARK PROBERT CONTROLS, with whom we have worked for some seven years past and have learned to trust. But we would like an expression from readers, as to whether they feel an active interest in this kind of subject matter.

Announcing "Q ENERGY - DISCOVERY, RESEARCH, AND APPLICATION":

This is a printed (not mimeographed) brochure, 4½ x 9", neatly bound, good paper, about 20 pages, a few errors in type and format which will be corrected in the next printing. Compiled by Ruth Reed (BSRA) and E.G. Reed, Director of Research for Originality House, 480 Avalon Ave, Akron 20, Ohio. Sponsored by the Borderland Sciences Research, and previously mentioned by us in several advance notices.

The first part of this booklet is addressed to medical men and to all practitioners of healing arts. There is a sketch covering some ten years of research, and several pages of Applications (shock, increased healing rate, burn relief, reduced bleeding time, sleep effects, gland stimulation, sprains and bruises, nerve involvements in general, arthritis, neuralgia, pain from amputations, ulcers, etc. - and remarkable results obtained by veterinarians in treating injuries to horses.

The ADDENDUM is devoted to practical and therapeutic uses in the home and daily life. These are important, and the product is inexpensive, easily applied, and proven to be harmless even in inexperienced hands. It is an extremely thin plastic film resembling the commercial pliofilm, but which has been subjected to a simultaneous two-way stretch; it produces local warmth but also creates a static field, and its applications are constantly increasing in number.

ORIGINALITY HOUSE puts out Q Energy Film in several forms: as a self-feeding package, as flat fan-fold, small utility bag, larger bag, 5 x 6 ft. Comfort, gloves and socks, etc.

"This is a humanitarian project and is not for monetary gain. Originality House is set up as a non-profit organization. Any money accruing goes back into further research, and the Q Film is part of a larger research... Because of the many uses to which the film may be put and which are beyond the control of the producer, the only guarantee is on the quality of the material and not on claims made regarding results of its use."

For inquiries and prices write direct to ORIGINALITY HOUSE, 480 Avalon Ave., Akron 20, Ohio.

For copies of the brochure described above, address BSRA Hdqrs., 3524 Adams Ave., San Diego 16, Calif. Price $1.00 each.

By reason of m y complete confidence in the Directors of Originality House, and because of the many remarkable qualities and effects of the Q-Energy Film, some of which are unique and belong to the healing arts of the future, I am particularly anxious to bring this product to the attention of our BSR Associates. We have no commercial contract with Originality House, but simply cooperate with them by distributing the brochure at the price mentioned ($1.00), which does little more than cover its cost. An inspection copy (return if not wanted) will be sent on request.

CONCERNING "PYRAMID EFFECTS"

' The effects produced by the pyramid are a function of its shape. All geo - metric forms have peculiar properties of their own. You might say that the pyramid produces a modification of the earth's magnetic field. The effect of this is to prevent oxidation.

' The razor blade is not dulled by use, but by oxidation of the molecular fringe of the edge during the time it is not in use. *

' The proportions of the pyramid, while not of critical importance probably do have an effect. There is probably some value in following the ratios of the Great Pyramid, since the Ancients constructed this in alignment with certain invisible bodies. For the same reason it may be of advantage to orient the pyramid with one side to the north, and even to place the razor blade lengthwise north & south. **

' The edge of the blade has its magnetic field. This field is not changed & the edge is not changed, but oxidation of the edge is prevented.

' This latter effect explains the dessication of food stuffs and the reason they do not decay - i.e., oxidize.

' On a suppurating wound there should be some beneficial effect. On a surface cancer the spread of cancerous growth should at least be inhibited.

' Since saprophytes live on decaying (oxidizing) matter, it seems probable that they sense the fact that decay is arrested (under the pyramid) and hence try to get away. If they cannot escape they die and dry up.

' The material of which you make the pyramid is of some importance. Metal pyramids should be tested but it is doubtful whether they will work well. The same is true of plastic.

' Concerning the effects of geometric forms - many obscure factors are involved. It is not safe to assume that the same form will always produce exactly the same effects.

Professor Alfred Luntz (deep trance mediumship of Mark Probert, 9-26-53)

(Present: Four Electronic Engineers; business executive Mr. F. O.; Mrs. Irene Probert, Meade Layne).

NOTE: * In this connection: most razor blades are well shielded from the air, usually by individual waxed wrappers, until the package is opened.

 In experiments so far reported to the BSR, pyramids used have been of paper, dimensions $3\frac{1}{4}$ " on base line (of one side), 3" along slope line, corner to apex; or 6" x $6\frac{1}{2}$. Larger in same proportions. These are of course approximate. Whether any of these factors are critical, remains to be verified.

It has been reported by Verne Cameron (inventor of the Aurameter) that the effects are increased if the tip of the pyramid is connected by a wire to the apex of a near-by cone. The Luntz Control when told of this replied: "This I do not understand".

What results, if any, will be obtained if a small air-tight container is used to cover the blades instead of the pyramid? Results with food-stuffs? Three portions from a single meat sample should be tested simultaneously (a) under the pyramid (b) in a small airtight container (c) in the open.
